On 06/18/19, Toby Kuang arrived at The Pawington Dog Hotel on the 100 block of Beacon Avenue and asked to play with the dogs there. Kuang was fired from the business four years ago and had no business being there. When staff declined, Kuang removed a closed folding knife from his pocket, placed it on the front desk, and told staff to hold it "as a sign of trust". When officers arrived on scene and searched Kuang, they found he was wearing a level III soft ballistic vest concealed under a t-shirt. Kuang was also wearing leather motorcycle pants with molded plastic armor over the knees and shins. The motorcycle pants were concealed underneath everyday jeans Kuang was wearing. Kuang said he needed to wear armor because "people were after him". Kuang's behavior was erratic throughout the contact, and he was subsequently placed on a 5150 W&I hold. Kuang is known to frequent San Francisco State University and has an address of 1523 21st Avenue in San Francisco.
